The original gardens around the house are planted in colour themes separated by yew hedges. The sheltered lower gardens and pool were added later to create a Mediterranean atmosphere. A contemporary water garden has recently been added.

One of the World's most unusual heritage sites...

Started in the 1850s, the Mansion is a time capsule opening a window into the Victorian era. Today it is home to a rare set of bat colonies, a living classroom for student craftsmen and is a popular film set, believed to have inspired the designers of Harry Potter.

It also attracts many ghost hunters each year, who come to enjoy paranormal experiences in this mysteriously abandoned building.

Attractive, high quality Cotswold stone cottages located on historic country estate mentioned in the Domesday Book of 1086. Muir Cottage was converted from an 18th century barn to a design inspired by the Arts and Crafts Movement that established in the Cotswolds in the 19th century, resulting in an array of stone mullioned windows, leaded lights, exposed beams and period furnishings. The Bothy has been created from a 1700s Cotswold barn and a 1920s kennel building and is a truly unique cottage.

Postlip is beautifully situated in a hidden coombe on the leeward side of the Cotswolds' highest hill, yet is only minutes from Winchcombe, a classic Cotswold "wool town" with excellent shops and restaurants.
